Robert C. Miller graduated from Cornell University, receiving his B.A. in 1962 and his LL.B. in 1965. Prior to becoming a partner of the firm, he was a partner in several prominent New York City and international law firms. Mr. Miller has organized numerous private and public non-operating and operating foundations and devised innovative solutions to the organization of their grant administration activities.

Bob is a longtime member of the New York City, State and American Bar Associations, where he has been active on various estate planning and tax committees and served as the chair of several. He has also been active in civic and foundation activities. He currently serves as Senior Vice Chairman of the Foreign Policy Association; is a member of the Budget and Audit Committee of the National Endowment for Democracy; is Chairman of the Hurford Foundation; serves as a Director of Leaders in Furthering Education, Inc., and the Lois Pope LIFE Foundation, Inc., and is a former Trustee of the Brooklyn Public Library.

In his spare time, Bob and his wife raise Swedish warmblood horses for training in dressage on their horse farm in Colts Neck, New Jersey.
